2010 INNSBROOK CLASSIC GOLF TOURNAMENT TO BENEFIT ST. JOSEPH'S VILLA

Proceeds will support Villa programs for children with autism and developmental disabilities

Richmond, VA – St. Joseph's Villa's 26th Annual Golf Tournament will be held on Monday, May 24 at the Dominion Club in Henrico County, in partnership with the 2010 Innsbrook Classic. The Dominion Club is located at 6000 Dominion Club Drive in Glen Allen, Virginia, and its telephone number is (804) 360-1200. The tournament is presented by Highwoods Properties and CapTech, and supported by Bon Secours.

Funds from the event will be used to support the Villa's after-school and weekend respite services for children with autism and developmental disabilities. "We are thrilled to partner with the 2010 Innsbrook Classic for this event," said John Gentry, co-chair of the golf committee and Chairman-elect of the Villa's Board of Trustees. "The tournament proceeds will help support the Villa's programs for some of our neediest children, children with profound disabilities including autism and other intellectual and developmental disabilities. The community has supported our work in this area for more than a quarter-century, and unfortunately, there is still a tremendous need for support. Working with the Innsbrook Classic will give us an opportunity to raise funds and also increase awareness with a wider audience of how much so many children need our help."

The golf committee has been working on the event for months, and all of the available teams have been purchased. However, there remain several sponsorship opportunities. For more information about those opportunities, please contact David Huffine, the Villa's Vice President for Financial Development. Huffine's telephone number is (804) 553-3220 and his email address is dhuffine@sjvmail.net.

Established in Richmond in 1834, St. Joseph's Villa is metro-Richmond, Virginia's oldest and largest continuously-operating children's nonprofit organization. The Villa is located on a spacious 82-acre campus in Richmond/Henrico County and builds stronger children, families and communities. The Villa serves more than 500 children and families daily, through the delivery of day, after-school and residential programs that include: special and nontraditional education programs for at-risk youth; education and housing services for homeless children and their families; education and respite, summer and after-school care for children with autism and developmental disabilities; behavioral treatment programs for children and families; housing for adults with disabilities; and a child development center. The Villa is accredited by the national Council on Accreditation and is an approved Medicaid provider for many of its services.

St. Joseph's Villa admits clients of any race, color, gender, age, religion, disability or national origin to all the rights, privileges, programs and activities generally accepted or made available to clients at St. Joseph's Villa. In accordance with Federal law and U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) policy, St. Joseph's Villa is prohibited from discriminating on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, age, disability and retaliation in the administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs and athletic and other agency-administered programs. Any person who believes he or she has been discriminated against in any U.S.D.A. related activity should write to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.
